THE MISSION OF THE PARTY.

In an interview at Chicago, Stephen B. Elkins commended the position taken by Senator Sherman in his Ohio speeches, and said: "But, after all the great slavery question, which was the mission of the Republican party to solve, is but a small part of its work. The great issue of labor and capital has begun to press strongly for a solution, and it will be the duty of the Republican party to solve it. It is only by keeping close to the people, as it did in slavery times, that the party can be strong and succeed. The labor question is far more complex and difficult than was the abolition of slavery, but when the party sets itself forth to find a remedy for the ills that now begin to threaten the existence of the Republic a way will be found. What that may be cannot now be conjectured any more than the manner that slavery was to be abolished could have been predicted by the early abolitionists. It may be in the form of co-operation or of profit sharing but it must come."

"The price of labor has come to be computed on the basis of what it costs the laborer to live, a situation which cannot endure with a degree of education prevailing in this country. But with education comes the power of co-operation and combination, placing capital and labor as two great antagonistic bodies, whose constant friction must of necessity produce fire. These great interests, so dependent must be made to work in harmony for the good of each. To do this is the mission of the grand old party, whose future, if she takes up her duty, will be still more grand."

The boundary between Massachusetts and New Hampshire has been in dispute 160 years. No strictly legal line exists. In 1741 the King of England directed representatives of both provinces to jointly make a map in accord with some general directions, but Massachusetts did not obey, and New Hampshire did the work alone. A strip of the Merrimac Valley is the doubtful ground.

The men predominate in Mississippi, Vermont, Ohio, Kentucky, Delaware, Florida, West Virginia and Indiana, where the females are about 95 per cent. of the males, and in Illinois, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa the percentage of females is from 90 to 95.

The President has appointed Edward A. Stevenson, of Boise City, Idaho, to be Governor of the Territory of Idaho, and William B. Webb, of Billings, Montana, to be Secretary of the Territory of Montana.

William B. Webb, appointed Secretary of the Territory of Montana, has been a resident of that Territory about five years. He is thirty-four years of age, and formerly resided at La Crosse, Wisconsin.

It is estimated that there has been a decrease of about $12,000,000 in the public debt during the month. The September payments on account of pensions during the month, were about $4,000,000.

The President has appointed Edward A. Stevenson, of Boise City, Idaho, to be Governor of that Territory. This newly-appointed Governor is brother to Hon. C. C. Stevenson, of Gold Hill.

It has been learned that the resignation of Supervising Architect Bell has been accepted, to take effect Nov. 1st, and that his successor will probably be a New York man.

The Massachusetts Republicans assembled yesterday in State Convention. It was conceded that Gov. Robinson, and the old ticket would be nominated.

The argument in the Sharon case before the U. S. Circuit Court, was concluded Tuesday, and the case taken under advisement.

Baking Down the Polyg.

SALT LAKE, September 29th.—The District Court was thronged to-day, the polygamists being arraigned for unlawful cohabitation. Bishop Hiram B. Clawson was first called. He read a long statement claiming an upright life of religious devotion. Following the commands of God, he married his wives in their youth, when he also was young. They had grown together, having families, who in turn had children, and he could not throw off these wives nor disown their children. If he did he would be ostracised, looked down upon and dishonored in the community among the brethren he respects and honors. He could not support the scorn and indignation of his wives and children if he should prove false to the vows of generations. Judge Zane pointed out all this moral cowardice as equivalent to saying he would claim the country as his own, accept its protection and privileges, but refuse to obey its laws at the dictation of the lawless class who terrorized him. He quailed before the scorn of a community hostile to the laws, when many good men have died in defense of those laws. Polygamy has always been illegal here under the common law and under the law of Mexico. There never was any excuse for entering into these illegal relations under the pretense that there is no law against it. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and $300 fine and costs. Truman O. Angel, artificer on the temple, pleaded guilty of unlawful cohabitation and agreed to sustain the laws. He was fined $150, being poor, without imprisonment. S. W. Sears, Assistant Manager of Zion's Cooperative Institution, of this city, pleaded guilty and gave unreserved submission to the laws and would obey them. He was fined $300 and costs, without imprisonment.

Weaning Grover from the Mug-wumps.

Colonel Fellows and his associate Democrats talked for several hours with the President Monday. They are very well satisfied with the interview. The burden of their argument was directed against the Mugwumps. They told the President that he had conceded altogether too much to them, and that these men have shown that they cannot be depended upon. It was inferred from what the President said that he no longer had a warm corner in his heart for the Mugwumps, and that the appointments of the future would be more encouraging to the Democrats than in the past.

Some Straight Democratic Talk.

Irving Hall, at a mass meeting Tuesday night, ratified the New York Democratic nominations. Ex-Senator Eocene made a speech, in which he referred to the Mugwumps as "traitors in their own party and disturbers in ours."

Civil Service was a heresy and "offensive partisanship" was its twin brother, and the Saratoga nominations were meant to emphasize the reverse of these doctrines.

The nine now living ex-Senators who were members of the United States Senate at the beginning of the war and who took their seats at the memorable first session of the Thirty-seventh Congress on July 4, 1861, are Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware; Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois; James Harlan, of Iowa; Samuel C. Pomeroy, of Kansas; Henry M. Rice and Morton S. Wilkinson, of Minnesota; Daniel Clark of New Hampshire; John Sherman, of Ohio, and James R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin.

At length there is a marked abatement of the frightful cholera death-rate which so long prevailed in Spain. For weeks the daily returns showed about a thousand fatal cases, but on Monday less than 300 were reported. Something of the reduction is doubtless due to persistent work of the sanitary authorities, but probably more to exhaustion of the supply of material. The people whose bodily condition, mode of life or surroundings invited the plague have been largely swept away.

The gradual developments in New York State from now till election day are well worth following with interest and attention.

A Substitute Found for Flower.

General E. S. Jones, of Binghamton, has been chosen to fill the vacancy occasioned by the withdrawal of Flower from the candidacy on the Democratic State ticket for Lieutenant Governor. General Jones appeared before the State Committee and formally accepted the nomination. It had been previously tendered to General H. W. Slocum, but he declined. Jones was born in Utica, New York, in 1828. He was reared in Massachusetts, and his home was there until the close of the war.

He commanded the famous Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, which was attacked in the streets of Baltimore on April 8, 1861, while on its way to the defense of Washington. This was the first bloodshed in the civil war. He subsequently raised the Twenty-sixth Volunteers, and served with distinction in the Army of the Gulf. He was brevetted Brigadier-General for meritorious services on the field. At the close of the war he settled in Binghamton, Broome county, New York, and established the Jones scale works. He ran for Congress against Thomas C. Platt in 1874, but was defeated, and was again beaten two years later for the same office by G. R. Dwight. He is regarded as a business man purely, and not as a politician.

Bolting Miss.

The New York Staats Zeitung, the leading Democratic paper, bolts Hill. Its editor says: "The Democratic Convention has seen fit to nominate a candidate whose election must from the beginning appear to be more than doubtful, and the leaders who brought about this result must be held responsible for the defeat of their party, which seems to be almost inevitable. German voters, who are not exclusively guided by the liquor interests, will, in all likelihood, declare in favor of Davenport, who will no doubt draw a considerably larger German vote than that cast for Blaine."

Florida is the land of fruit as well as of flowers. A newspaper of that State says: "Commencing with January, we have strawberries, then and until late in June, Japan pears; from February, Mulberries are ripe in April and last until August. Pineapples ripen in June and last nearly all the year. We have guavas from July until late in the Spring. Of the various berries, dewberries, and blackberries, and huckleberries—almost any quantity. Peaches from May 1st until July. Melons from June until late in the Fall. Oranges—the best of the kind—from October until the next June, with lemons and limes, persimmons, pomegranates, grape-fruit, grapes and shaddock.

Should the Democrats carry the Ohio Legislature ex-Senator Thurman will be urged for the United States Senate; but there is a probability that he would not accept, and in that case Mr. John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Inquirer, would become a formidable candidate for the place. As the leader of the younger, more active and more advanced element of his party, he would certainly prove a valuable acquisition to the Senate.

The voters of North Truckee School District, No. 14, are notified that there will be an election held at the school house on Saturday, October 24, 1885, for the purpose of voting to move the school house from its present site to or near the northwest corner of W. P. Van Meter's ranch. The polls will be open from 10 o'clock A. M. until 3 o'clock P. M. By order of the Board of Trustees.

The Cheyenne Stock Journal, of last week, says:

Sparks & Tinnin, of Nevada, passed through to Chicago Monday with three trains, some 600 head, of beefeves for the Chicago market, consigned to George Adams & Burke. They have a considerable number yet to ship if the market adjusts itself to suit them.

M. Gravy has reconsidered his determination not to accept another term as President of the French Republic. Unless he should be his own successor, M. Brisson, now Premier, will probably be elected.

The salaries of the Governor and Supreme Judges have been fixed at $2,500 in Dakota's new Constitution.

THE WORLD IN BRIEF.

General Longstreet is keeping a hotel in Georgia.

Ex-Minister Knsson will go into the newspaper business.

Lawrence Barrett is writing a life of Charlotte Cushman.

The tobacco crop is a failure in Virginia and North Carolina.

Khartoum has a great industry engaged in boat building for the Nile trade.

Jumbo ate daily a barrel of potatoes, a bushel of onions and 400 pounds of hay.

The Nebraska Republicans propose a campaign this year only twenty days long.

There's another revolution in Guatemala. Three or four men are running it.

The United States consume a hundred and sixty millions of pounds of starch per year.

Attorney-General Garland's Summer home in Arkansas is a log cabin with one room.

The number of arrests for crime in New York City has decreased 12 per cent. in ten years.

Minister Philip has gone to scratch his back on the Duke of Argyll's celebrated blessing post.

Since Grant was buried in Riverside Park property near there has advanced 100 per cent.

The new Swedish soprano is Madame Pyk Newton. Critics pyk no flaws in her performance.

It is said that Senator Brown, of Georgia, hires 500 convicts, and clears $160,000 a year on the contract.

There are twenty-two million widows in India, who by the rules of their religion, can never marry again.
